

BRIAN MORRIS, INSTRUCTOR AT PATRIOT FIREARMS

CHL Instructor Since: 2005

Contact Info: 806.796.2858

Brian Morris, Concealed Handgun Instructor at Patriot Family Shooting Center, received his CHL instructor's certification through the Texas Department of Public Safety in August of 2005, and joined the teaching staff at Patriot in the winter of 2006.

Brian is also an NRA Certified Basic Pistol Instructor, NRA Certified Range Safety Officer, and NRA Certified Home Defense Instructor.

Brian is also certified through the International Defensive Pistol Association (IDPA) as a Safety Officer and has successfully completed combat pistol training at the Tulsa Defensive Shooting Academy (TDSA) and has studied under National Champions Marshall Luton, Curt Nichols and the late Steve Broome.

During the last four years, Brian has won IDPA State Championships in Arizona and New Mexico and a myriad of regional matches in Texas and Arkansas. In 2004 and 2005 he advanced to the IDPA Nationals finishing in the upper fifty percentile of shooters in his class both times. In the spring of 2007 he was named the most accurate shooter at the IDPA Mountain Valley Regional in Hot Springs, Arkansas. And most recently, Brian won first place at the 2007 IDPA Nationals in Allentown, Pennsylvania in the Enhanced Service Pistol Division, Marksman Classification.

An educator by profession and a shooter by choice, Brian has taught at both the junior college and university level. He is currently employed full time as an administrator for a local school district.

The Texas Concealed Handgun Program and competitive pistol shooting are Brian's passions.

